Special Education Problem Being Discussed By Board

Rail Crossing Control Asked

Randall County is seeking traffic controls at the Santa Fe crossing of the paved road running south from Canyon High School.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman told commissioners court Monday that a 1963 count showed 280 vehicles a day at the crossing.

The court took no action on an El Paso Natural Gas Company request for a 60-day notice in case of proposed construction and 24-hours notice in case of repair of road across the company's gas lines.

The court passed a resolution requiring 20 feet of clearance for new utility lines across county roads.

Commissioners again passed up action on new voting machines.

County Clerk Tommy Lair repeated his position that the eight machines on loan from Rockwell Manufacturing Company definitely will be needed in the next general election.

Commissioner Bill Butler noted that voting on machines is being done faster than at first as the electorate becomes accustomed to the machines. The county owns 34 machines and has eight on loan for a total of 42.

Lair produced a contract setting forth the terms on which the eight machines were loaned to the county. The contract expired last March 1. It stipulated that the county had an option of purchasing the eight machines at $1798 each or shipping them back to the company on the East Coast at the county's expense.

Schaeffer Stricken

George Schaeffer, 77 years old, is in critical condition in Neblett Hospital.

Schaeffer, known as the Panhandle over as Farmer Schaeffer, was stricken with a heart attack Wednesday of last week. Early this week he still was not being allowed visitors.

Schaeffer is best known for his letters to the editor and poems which have appeared in publications all over the area. He is a staunch Democrat and much of his prose and verse have been written in eulogy of the leaders of that party.

Schaeffer is a veteran of both World Wars having served in Europe during World War II although he was crowding 60 years of age at the time.

When Schaeffer tried to volunteer for service in World War II, a recruiting officer is said to have looked askance at him because of his lack of teeth.

"I'm not going to bite them, I'm going to shoot them," the doughty Schaeffer is reported to have replied.

High Court Confirms Zilka Term

The court of criminal appeals has confirmed the life sentence of Anthony Zilka, 32, convicted rapist, according to George Dowlen, Randall County criminal district attorney.

A Randall County jury of 10 men and two women last May found Zilka guilty of raping a 3-year-old girl. The jury assessed his punishment at life in prison.

The defense has 10 days in which to file a motion for a rehearing in the case.

Annexation Question Unanswered

Hunsley Hills annexation question still was not answered Monday night by Canyon City Commissioners.

Commissioners met in regular session Monday, but made no decision on a proposal by Arch Hunsley, developer of the stylish subdivision north of Canyon.

Hunsley made a request several weeks ago to the Commissioners to have the boundary line on an area now under annexation proceedings moved southward.

If the commissioners changed the line at this time the area will not be on the 1964 tax rolls. The change will consist of alleviating only 148 acres from the original 360 already in the annexation proceedings.

Commissioners talked with Hunsley's lawyer Monday night, and instructed Dewey Bryant, city manager, to discuss possible avenues the city might follow in the matter with Hunsley.

In other business, Commissioners approved payment of $6,453 to Thrift-T-Built Steel Structures of Amarillo for an addition to the new city barn.

Approval to pay H. B. Jordan and Company, Inc., $5,287.49 for utility improvements in Money Addition was also given by the city dads.

The money was paid from the Water and Sewer Escrow Fund. Commissioners also approved payment to Motorola Communications for $1390 for a radio system which was installed last month in the city hall.

Dads also discussed the addition to the city barn located in

Students May Use Amarillo Facilities

A plan to send Canyon school children to Amarillo for special education classes, with the Canyon school system paying tuition costs, was presented to the school board Tuesday night.

"We would send the students we are not in a position to care for at this time to Amarillo," Superintendent Huelyn Laycock explained.

Laycock pointed out to the trustees that parents of the children chosen for classes in the Amarillo school system would have to be responsible for transportation to Amarillo. The local school system would only furnish tuition.

"This plan is not definite at this point. Much study is required still, but if we can work something out with the parents and with Amarillo, this may be a possible answer to our problem in Canyon," Laycock said.

Last spring a special committee of school faculty members was asked to study the Special Education program with particular emphasis directed at the minimally brain-injured student.

"At the present time we have possibly two or three children who might be encouraged to go to Amarillo," Laycock said.

Further screening, parental permission and certain tests must be given before any definite number of children is known.

"Amarillo will go over our screening and tests before they accept the students. We simply recommend the students after our findings are complete. They are checked again by the Amarillo schools."

"We are not sure this is the way we will handle our problem, but it is a possible road which we might take."

"We need to do something for these children, and at the present time we are doing very little."

"We must encourage parents of these children to help us in finding a solution to the problem," Laycock said.

Laycock also told trustees that under the present schedule a solution may be possible by September.

"But in order to care for these students needing this kind of assistance during this interim period, we might authorize payment of tuition to Amarillo Public Schools for education until the appropriate unit in the Canyon District develops."

"Amarillo will receive such students at what Canyon paid Amarillo in tuition last year."

"The tuition figure will vary according to how long each student is in the program," Laycock explained.

When asked about when the program to send students to Amarillo might begin, Laycock said he did not know whether plans could be worked out by mid-term in January or not.

"So much depends on whether we can work things out with the parents, how fast we get our screening of students done, and if we can make arrangements with Amarillo," he continued.

Board members voted to approve the tentative plan of sending the children to Amarillo with the Canyon school system paying tuition for the children.

"If we can hurry the plans up, I think we need to hurry them up," Trustee Walter Graham said.

"This sounds like an excellent plan, and it is kind of Amarillo to do this for us. This will be wonderful for the child," said board member Dr. Charles Nester.

"We must do something for these children, and this sounds like a good plan. It will help the child and will help us until

Nazi Mail Is Probed

Postal authorities are investigating the flood of Nazi literature with which West Texas State University campus was deluged last week.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life, said the propaganda arrived on the campus within a two-day span. All was postmarked in Dallas, he said.

Only boys received the literature, according to the dean. He believes addresses were obtained from the student directory.

Dr. Carruth said most students receiving the literature reported it immediately to his office. "Some of them were very upset," he declared.

Dr. Carruth said about 1500 pieces of literature have been accounted for on the campus.

There was one report of a student having received both Nazi and Communist literature in the same envelope.

George Lincoln Rockwell, self-styled leader of the American Nazi Party, has visited in Canyon and vicinity over the past several months. On one of these visits, Rockwell was interviewed by The Canyon News.

Chamber To Name Directors

Names of four new chamber of commerce board members will be announced at a meeting of the board to be held the night of Dec. 28.

The board also will elect officers at the regular meeting.

Directors retiring from the board at the end of this year include Troy Martin, R. B. Gist, Jr., H. R. King and Huelyn Laycock.

Earl Reynolds was one of 13 lucky hunters last week end who shot and killed Aoudad sheep. The hunt lasted three days for 50 persons with special Texas Parks and Wildlife Department permits. Reynolds takes a close look at the Aoudad that he shot Sunday morning on the Newton Harrell Ranch south of Canyon. The sheep weighed 175 pounds, according to the hunter.

Buffaloes Schedule Holiday Doubleheader

California State at Hayward, a new opponent for West Texas State, comes to Buffalo Fieldhouse next Wednesday.

The school has been in existence only five years, but enrollment is already nearing 4,000.

The stop in Canyon is part of a four-game swing through the Southwest by the Pioneers on which they face New Mexico, Arizona and Texas Western prior to the December 23 game with the Buffaloes.

Coach Bill Vandenburg, who played on the great University of Washington teams in the early fifties, has leading scorer Alvin McDaniels and leading rebounder Roy Sipp back from last year's 8-17 squad which finished fourth in the Far Western Conference.

Two other lettermen and three outstanding junior college transfers prompted Vandenburg to say, "We should be stronger in all departments including height, speed and shooting ability."

The Buffaloes take a five-day rest following the California State encounter before the Holiday Doubleheader, December 28 and 29. In addition to the Buffs, such outstanding quintets as Idaho State, North Texas State and Hardin-Simmons will appear on the two-night program.

In the Monday opener, Hardin-Simmons (3-1) tackles North Texas State (3-2) and the

Two Local Men Down Aoudads

Two local men bagged rare Aoudad Sheep during a three-day hunt last weekend in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Earl Reynolds, who lives on the Newton Harrell Ranch south of town, and Jerry Parker of the J. O. Parker Ranch southeast of Canyon, shot one sheep apiece during the special hunt, which was sponsored by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Reynolds shot his sheep around 11 a.m. Sunday. Parker of Wayside killed his sheep Sunday also.

The sheep, put in Palo Duro Park several years ago, were hunted by persons in a three-county area Friday through Sunday.

Fifty permits were issued to some 30 ranchers in Randall, Armstrong and Briscoe Counties. Three of the sheep were killed in Randall County, two in Armstrong and eight in Briscoe.

According to Stanley McDonough of the wildlife department, two sheep were killed on the Harrell Ranch and one on the Parker Ranch.

"The first sheep shot was on

Buff wind up the first night against Idaho State. West Texas State and Hardin-Simmons switch opponents for Tuesday's action, the Cowboys meeting Idaho State in the opener and the NTSU Eagles and the Buffaloes meeting in the nightcap.

West Texas State plays home-and-home engagements with Hardin-Simmons after the semester break.

North Texas State may be the tallest team on the West Texas State schedule this year, averaging nearly 6-5 in starting height. 6-4 Dave Burns, a senior guard, has a 15-plus average for his collegiate career and operates in both front and back courts.

Idaho State has seven of 11 lettermen back from a "rebuilding year" record of 11-13 and a third place finish in the Big Sky Conference. Despite the loss of Art Crump who holds nearly all the school's scoring and rebounding records, coach Jim Nau thinks the 1964-65 edition will be better balanced. The Bengals have already made a four-game swing through the Midwest and will play Wyoming enroute to the Panhandle.

Banquet Tickets On Sale

Jeff Williams, a humorist from Chickasha, Okla., will be principal speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet which will be held Jan. 28.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at the Canyon Chamber of Commerce office. Tickets are $3.50 each.

Quotas Approved

Marketing quotas for the 1965 upland cotton crop were approved by Randall County producers Tuesday by an overwhelming majority.

The vote was 45 for and 5 against. There was one challenged vote for a total of 51 persons casting ballots.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

Charles Sutton of Happy visited with us last week.

Mr. Sutton is one of the old timers of Randall County. He told us that when he was a boy he lived in the old house recently razed to provide a parking lot for Neblett Hospital.

He said two saloons were located nearby and the cowboys used to whoop it up in the saloons when they came into town. "They killed every cat and dog in town," he related. "They tore up all the furniture in the saloons. My mother wouldn't let me stick my head out of the house while they were in town."

Mr. Sutton said the cowboys would sober up and come back in a few days. Contritely they would pay up for the damage they had done.

mind the fan of his windmill being shot up so much if a few stray shots didn't always hit and rupture the housing over his windmill motor.

This allows dirt and water to get into the motor and causes all sorts of mischief.

Hunters sometimes shoot plank fences. This weakens the board, Beckman relates, and when a cow brushes against it, the board breaks.

Another pet peeve of farmers is the hunter who digs blinds in a wheat field without permission. This type of fellow almost never covers up the blind when he's done using it. This leaves a vicious combine trap for the following spring.

Beckman says he has had machines bogged down a half a day in one of these left-over blinds.

Clarence Beckman killed the biggest goose he had ever seen just before Thanksgiving. He gave it to Bob Kerr.

Kerr had it dressed and vowed it was a tasty dish.

Beckman says it should have been. The goose dressed out a little better than seven pounds. After the gander had been dressed and consumed, Beckman learned that a contest for the biggest goose of the season was going on with a prize of $50.

Kerr allows that his gift from Clarence must have been worth just a little more than $7 a pound.

Hunters give farmers more than a little trouble.

Tom Lair says a hunter's favorite target is a "No Hunting" sign. The next most popular is windmill fans.

Beckman says he wouldn't

Well, we've heard the latest. One West Texas State student has a stereo in his car and we've heard of another who has a small television set mounted on his dashboard.

We'll never wear new shoes to the library again. We did this Sunday afternoon and the more quietly we tried to walk the louder the shoes squeaked.

We felt that every eye in the library was turned on us. We like attention but not this kind.

The Sage of Potato Hill once said: "You can't do up a rival by talking about him and telling what a mean man he is. The only way you can 'do him up' is to be more industrious than he is, and more polite, more agreeable and more honorable in your dealings with the public."

What Appalachia Really Wants

(AN EDITORIAL)

"Appalachia does not want to become a parasite sucking blood from its host," The Rev. Bruce Green, vicar, St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Cooperhill, Tenn., said recently.

"It wants to retain its sovereignty and meet its challenge. If it dies in the process, that, too, is a part of our code. Man lives by two things in Appalachia---what God gives him and what man does with it."

"Appalachia has been blessed with more than veins of coal. It has been given beauty and a climate which rewards the resourceful man. If someone wants to help Appalachia, let him 'so with the attitude, not of giving, but of building.'"

VFW Yule Party Set

The annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Christmas Party will be held at 6 o'clock Saturday evening at the post home.

The post and the auxiliary will sponsor a dinner.

Santa Claus will visit the kiddies with bags of candy and other gifts.

VFW and auxiliary members are invited.

Saw Dr. and Mrs. Manly Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fulton at the Pop Concert Saturday night in Amarillo.

Thoroughly enjoyed Skitch Henderson, his jokes, playing and conducting. Only wish he had played a little more during the performance.

Those of you who missed the concert missed a great deal.

It was my first time to hear the Amarillo Symphony and they were quite good. Several Canyon folks are in the orchestra, which made the evening that much more enjoyable.

Have you driven around at night in Canyon? The lighting is beautiful throughout the residential sections.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a lighting contest this week, and Friday is the deadline to enter.

If you have not entered, you should call Jackie Whitley and register with him. The homes and businesses will be judged Friday night and the winners named Saturday afternoon at the Merchants Day drawing on the east side of the courthouse.

Two winners will be named in the residential division and the business division.

If you haven't taken a drive around town the past week, pick a night and just meander along the streets looking at some of the beautiful displays.

People's imaginations have worked overtime to produce some of the lighting effects.

Put some jewels in your front yard, and help make Canyon a fairytown for Christmas. Why not enter the Jaycee contest yourself? Make your Christmas brighter with decorations in your yard.

When A. B. Holt picked up his young grandson, Tom, from school this week, the boy shyly told his Granddad he had had an argument.

"I won an argument today Granddad," the boy explained. Holt asked the boy what the trouble had been and the youngster just shrugged his shoulders, and said, "I just told the boys my Grandmother could beat his Grandmother."

Mrs. Holt hoped she wasn't called on to prove that point. "Maybe I could outrun her," Mrs. Holt said.

Mrs. J. W. Wesley seemed to have trouble last week. She writes in her weekly column to the News about a shopping problem she encountered.

"Did you ever go Christmas shopping and come home and you bought Christmas wrapping paper...but nothing to wrap? That was just what happened to me last week," she wrote.

Rebekah Lodge Leaders Named

New officers of Canyon City Rebekah Lodge #350 were elected at their meeting Dec. 9 at First Methodist Church.

The officers will be announced and installed later.

At the meeting, Mrs. Roy J. Davis presided in the absence of Mae Johnson, noble grand.

Since last report, 36 visits, calls and cards had been made or sent, and three gowns and three smocks had been sent to the home at Corsicana. Also, Mae Bond, secretary, stated that ten dressed dolls had been sent to the children's home in Henderson.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Roy J. Davis, Flora Lee Taylor, Myrtle Wester, Mae Bond and Bertha Crow.

Next meeting will be Dec. 23 at 2:30 p.m. in First Methodist Church.

County Zoning

(AN EDITORIAL)

If Randall County is to develop into the beauty spot of the Panhandle, then some county zoning is badly needed.

It is apparent that in a few years Amarillo and Canyon city limits will meet. Will the expressway be lined with unsightly development or will that development be done in an orderly manner?

We think it is high time that commissioners court and the chambers of commerce of Amarillo and Canyon give some thought to this question.

We do not know the legal approach to the problem but it certainly deserves study.

The Randall County area is the playground, the showcase of the Panhandle. We hope that its main traffic artery, the expressway, will not become a jungle of junk yards.

A stitch in time saves nine. Now is the time.

PTA Meeting Set Tonight

Canyon Parent-Teachers Association will hold their Christmas meeting tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Canyon High auditorium.

Included on the program is a devotional by Mrs. W. A. Moore.

High School girls' choir members will provide a background of traditional Christmas music to "The Little Black Lamb". Julie Puckett will narrate the story.

Arrangements for the program were under the direction of Gene Murray and Zoe Henry.

Following the program, refreshments will be served in the high school cafeteria by Mrs. E. J. Webb and Mrs. Jerry LaGrone.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 21, 1965.

Twins Arrive For Yuletide

Twin boys were born Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Venhaus of Happy in Neblett Hospital.

The twins are named Donald and Daniel.

Donald weighed six pounds, three ounces at birth and is 17 and 1/2 inches long. Daniel, who weighed five pounds, eleven ounces at birth, is 16 and 3/4 inches long.

Three little sisters, Dana, age 7, Gay, age 5, and Carla, age 4, are awaiting the arrival home of their two baby brothers for Christmas.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pohlmeier of Reseda, California. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Venhaus of Nazareth are paternal grandparents.

Rick Hales Sells Registered Bull

Rick Hales, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Hales, sold an Aberdeen-Angus bull recently to S. A. Hodges of Happy.

According to his father, Rick sold the bull for "a reasonable price".

This was the first bull Rick has sold, according to his father.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Franklin of Amarillo, Leroy Renegar of Preston, Kansas, Mrs. Imogene Rorabaugh of Pratt, Kansas, visited last Thursday with the W. R. Franklins.

Christmas Mailings Ahead Of Schedule

Canyon folks have been doing real well on their Christmas mailings.

Marion Higdon, postmaster of the Canyon PO, stated at press time Wednesday mailing has been ahead of schedule this year.

"I expect we hit our peak Monday, and things have been almost as good Tuesday and Wednesday," Higdon stated.

"We will be going at top speed for the remainder of the week, and things should begin tapering off around next Monday," Higdon said.

Higdon had a special word of thanks for persons who have done their mailing early. "The work problem created in previous years has not arisen this year, and we would like to thank persons for spreading out the overall mailing."

Christmas stamps are still available for persons who wish to use the stamps on their mailings.

Higdon announced that the Post Office will be closed Dec. 25, Christmas Day.

"We will deliver all special delivery packages, and all packages of obvious Christmas nature, and will dispatch all mail deposited in Canyon, but no deliveries, either carrier or box, will be made, he added.

Cub Scouts

Den 5, pack 31 met Tuesday, Dec. 8 with Mrs. P. H. Woolsey. Boys worked on their Christmas gifts and refreshments were served by Willie Hales. Attending the meeting were Willie Hales, Brent Billingslea, Gary Kuhlman, Wayne Pitt, David Woolsey, Robert Schaeffer, and Fred Richard, den chief.

Cub members of den 5, pack 31 met Dec. 14 and completed work on their Christmas gifts. Boys sang songs and Gary Kuhlman served refreshments. Boys present included Fred Richard, den chief, Willie Hales, Brent Billingslea, David Woolsey, Robert Schaeffer, Wayne Pitt, and Gary Kuhlman.

Mrs. Wager Decorates For Yule

With holiday preparations now in full swing, Mrs. Paul Wager, Umbarger, has completed her most unusual Christmas decorations.

As in the past, Mrs. Wager has made most of the decorations herself with three different themes of Christmas carried out in the decor.

'Children's Window' features Santa with his reindeer and sled full of toys and snow under-foot. Overhead are various sized Christmas balls decorated with sequins, flowers, colored beads and jewels suspended by gold chains with pixies riding on the balls. Accenting this window are lights of white Poinsettia and snow.

'Peace on Earth' is the theme for the window which faces the church across the way. With colored lights surrounding this scene; white doves are carrying silver berries and circling the angels which are holding candles, kneeling in prayer, and caroling.

Bringing attention to the 'Church and Holidays' are blinking lights with pine cones and fancy Christmas balls surrounding an illuminated church and a gift-giving Santa.

Background for these arrangements is a large plant featuring the traditional Poinsettia for the cheerful season.

Visible from all three windows is the white-flocked Christmas tree with pink balls and pink angels which carry lights. The tree rotates while the music of "Silent Night" is playing. A red lace and sequin skirt encircles the tree at the base.

The entire display can be summed up with the appropriate theme of "Swinging into Christmas" portrayed with an angel which is swinging on a silver star hung from the ceiling.

Mrs. Alice McGehee Recalls Working Days

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

Tragedy began one afternoon in a church chapel for a little girl of six.

She sat with her mother, brother, and several half-brothers and sisters at the funeral service of her father.

Suddenly she stared at her mother, realizing something was wrong.

A second tragedy had just occurred. The Mother was having a stroke, putting her in bed for the remainder of her life.

"The stroke paralyzed Mother. It was like losing both parents at the same time," the once frightened child recalled.

The children were sent from their small village in North Carolina to live with a half-sister in Virginia.

"Someone began checking and found that Daddy had been a member of the United America Mechanics, so after a year with Sister, my brother and I went to Ohio for school," remarked Mrs. M. I. McGehee of Happy.

Alice McGehee, mother of two, spoke rapidly about her early years in the Junior Order of United America Mechanics home. She was seven when she and her brother left the security of their sister's care, to attend the large school.

"We were taught love at the school. That is all we knew. We all loved each other and things around us.

"No one was allowed to be adopted. Families were kept together. We were raised sharing love and happiness," she explained.

Perhaps the school was where this vivacious woman learned the art of communication.

"We were taught that self-expression was one of the finest mental outlets possible," she explained.

"It was part of our responsibility in life to learn to talk with people and to communicate as fully as we could," she continued.

But the art of talking was not the only training Mrs. McGehee received at the special school.

During her 11 years at the school, she and others like her learned not only the three R's, but also a trade.

"We began working half a day and attending classes half a day in the sixth grade. By the time we were in the ninth grade we were supposed to pick a trade, which we thought we would want to follow after we left school.

"We had our own greenhouse, hospital, church, nursery, engineering school, public relations department, secretarial department, just anything you could think of," Mrs. McGehee remarked.

And this young girl picked nursing as her first choice.

"But I never used my nursing. I chose secretarial work as my second choice, and that is what I put into use after I graduated," she explained.

And put to use she did.

Youth mixed with an over abundance of energy and good health were the ingredients for Alice, the orphaned girl who made good.

Her life as a career girl began in the county courthouse in Portsmouth, Virginia. She didn't realize a depression was underway. For at the age of 18 years, her first year out of school, and holding down a job in the county treasurer office, she was making $35 a week.

"I never knew what the depression was. I was lucky in finding a job. I found a job in my sister's hometown, and just began working," she noted.

Six years later the working girl was ready to try the big time.

She went to Washington, D.C. for her excitement, and found that Fate was on her side.

"I'll never know how things happen to me. I have to give Fate all the credit. Things just happened to me, and suddenly instead of a dull clerk in an office, I was working in a senator's office," she said as she shook her head in remembrance.

Her main desire was to be a writer—a political analyst. But she had to start at the beginning, and that was in the Treasury Department as a clerk.

"One day they called about 450 girls together. They needed two secretaries to work as stenographers in a pool of 72 correspondents.

"They asked those who knew shorthand to raise their hands. Well, those 450 girls in the room had just graduated from St. Mary's and every one of them knew shorthand.

"Not knowing any better, I raised my hand with the crowd. And that man said you and you, come with me. Well, one of those 'yous' was ME.

"I'll never know why he picked me out of that mass of people. I was a girl in the corner of the room. I hadn't taken dictation for six years. It just had to be Fate," she said convincingly.

But it takes more than Fate to keep a job, once acquired. And Alice lowered head and began the long hours of a job.

"We would take dictation, and in the process the man giving the dictation would mention a law of some sort and the article number and section number. We then had to go back and look up the article and section and include it in the letter.

"Therefore we had to do a lot of research, which was excellent training for me," she continued.

The pasture looked greener on the other side of the fence after a few months, so Alice decided to go back to Virginia.

"I didn't stay gone long. I wanted to go back to Washington. I enjoyed my work, and I wanted to be around politics," she reminisced.

In 1937 she again joined the ranks of working girls in the nation's capitol...this time with the WPA, one of many special departments set up by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I was only there two weeks, when the head of the weather department of WPA told me I should get ahead. He said, 'Alice, you like people and you have a good mind. You should get some place and use your capabilities to better advantage,'" she said.

So with the help of the department head, Alice moved into the Flood Control project under the Soil Conservation Service in the Agriculture Department.

"I was hired as manager of the Flood Control project in the WPA program."

"June 30, 1937, the Flood Control program terminated, which meant I was out of a job."

"The day before I left my job, I was asking everyone in the office to go down and have coffee on me."

"Dr. Austin F. Patrick, chief of the Flood Control project in the Agriculture Department, heard me say something about leaving, and then really went to work.

"He wanted me to stay in his office, but in order to do that I had to get a civil service rating, which I did not have.

"They sent me around in a limousine to get my credentials and rating. It was like a storybook.

"Through a letter of endorsement from the Junior Order in Ohio, I received my rating in one day.

"That evening I was on the SCS payroll and never missed an hour's work," she told laughingly.

She worked with the SCS until she was interviewed for the Budget Control Office in 1938, switched jobs and then was interviewed for another job.

"The man who interviewed me was rather secretive about the position. I tripped him up though and found out that he was interviewing me for a position with the House of Representatives Appropriations Committee head," she commented.

"He told me that he had interviewed 35 secretaries, and he had picked two. I was one of those two. He also told me that if he had to pick between the two of us, he would choose me," she continued.

And he did pick her. She was at work in the office of Congressman Clarence Cannon of Missouri, who was head of the Appropriations Committee, in a few days.

"The first day at work Congressman Cannon called me into his office and told me, 'I face two deaths...a natural death and a political one. I would rather die a natural death than a political one. So don't let me die a political death because of some blunder you make.'"

"He was respected among the men in Washington. But often people did not see his kindness. He was so gentle to children," Mrs. McGehee recalled.

But the dream world was not ended for Mrs. McGehee. One day as she sat in the Senate dining room, a man approached her to begin work for W. Leo O'Daniel, U. S. Senator from Texas.

She talked with the man, asked questions, and finally agreed to begin work in the Senator's office.

"I credited all of my jobs and good luck to God. People have been so kind and wonderful to me. I have been fortunate.

"The friends I made in Washington seem like my God-mothers and fathers.

"Other people have shared so much with me. I have been

One-Time Working Girl

Mrs. Alice McGehee, mother of two and active in community affairs of all kinds, takes a minute from her busy schedule to begin decorating for Christmas. Mrs. McGehee recalls for News readers her days as a working girl in the nation's capitol, Washington D. C. She worked as a secretary to U. S. Senator W. Leo O'Daniel before she married M. I. 'Kotton' McGehee and moved to Happy.

so richly blessed by having so many dear friends.

"I did not even know that hate existed until I was quite old.

"I grew up in a place where love was taught and I always loved the people I was around.

"I might have disagreed with someone, but we never resorted to personalities. You can still be friends even though you disagree with someone. Everyone is different," she added.

In late 1939, the working girl quit her job in D.C. and went home to Norfolk, Virginia for a vacation.

"I met 'Kotton' while he was in the service, and we got married," she said.

The young couple moved to Texas, where 'Kotton' had a farm near the community of Happy. They had two children, a son M. L., a student at Texas Tech, and daughter, Dixie, a junior at Happy High School. But she remembers Washington D. C. with some nostalgia.

"I had fun in Washington. I was fortunate not to have a dull clerk's job. I loved people and I found life of Washington and politics the most interesting thing I had ever done," Mrs. McGehee stated.

Would you ever know that she had once been in the middle of national politics?

She still has copies of the Congressional Record sent to her home regularly. She reads them, then takes them to the high school for students to read and study.

She finds herself reading between the lines of newspaper stories concerning Washington politics. And she has much fun trying to analyze national politics today.

The art of self-expression--she has mastered it. Talking with Mrs. Alice McGehee is like spending an afternoon with a book of non-fiction, each page presenting new ideas and thoughts for you to digest and balance within your own mind.

An afternoon with Mrs. Alice McGehee is also hours filled with love and the understanding of human relations.

Eastern NM, Sul Ross Try Rattling Buffaloes

West Texas State makes its second road trip of the young season this week with games at Eastern New Mexico Thursday and at Sul Ross State Saturday.

Now 3-1 after a split at Abilene last week, the Buffaloes are favored to be 6-1 a week hence, despite the fact they will be playing outside the friendly confines of Buffalo Fieldhouse where they've won six straight over the past two seasons.

Eastern is 1-3 after having won its opener and Sul Ross is 1-4. Both teams defeated the same school, Tarleton State. Eastern won 99-84 and Sul Ross made it 73-60 last Saturday night to snap a five-game losing streak.

The Greyhounds have only two starters returning from last year's 8-13 team; Joe Allen and Esly Williams. Allen averaged 11 points per game and led in rebounding with 236 recoveries last year. Williams, the only senior on the squad, was the number two scorer with 326 points.

Jack Fryman continues to lead the Sul Ross attack with a 23.2 average. He had 20 against the Buffaloes in Canyon where WTS won easily 87-66.

After losing the opening game in Abilene last week to Abilene Christian, 84-62, the Buffaloes responded with their best shooting effort of the season to defeat McMurry. Despite the 59.6 field goal percentage, WTS had to come from behind three times in the overtime period to win. Jim Strahan's basket with 10 seconds left won it. Buffalo coach Jimmy Viamontes was especially pleased with the return to action of floor leader Gail Simpson this week. Simpson missed the Abilene excursion because of illness. Although not a high scorer, Gail means a great deal to the Buffalo attack because of his ability to quarterback the offense and get the ball inside to the post men. Kirby Pugh leads the Buffs in scoring and field goal percentage with 87 points and 72.5 per cent, respectively. Marvin Mitchell's 85.7 per cent tops the free throwers and Cal Taylor leads in rebounding with 33.

The Buffs' team field goal percentage of .541 ranks high nationally and is just .003 shy of the major college record for one season. With the tougher part of the schedule coming up, however, the Buffaloes may have reached their peak in this department.

Wheat growers are talking about the improved condition of the wheat crop after the recent moisture. Subsoil moisture conditions while not yet over about two feet deep is better than it has been since 1960. Another good wheat crop could be in prospect. Mrs. Joe Frank puts finishing touches on her "fruit stack", one of the many Christmas gifts she has made by hand. The "stack" is made of blue velvet balls and green felt leaves, and makes an interesting addition to Christmas gifts under the tree. Sewing, however, is only one of Mrs. Frank's talents, as she is also a well-known gardener, cook and flower arranger.

Fruit Cake, Carrot Cake Recipe Favorites Of Cook

BY PHYLLIS BONNIE

Christmas and holiday recipes for both fruit cake and carrot cake are being shared with our readers this week by Mrs. Joe Frank.

The Franks, Joe and Ida, have lived in the Canyon area since they married. The first 18 years, they lived on a farm seven miles northwest of Canyon, moving to their home on Fifth Avenue six years ago. Since then, the Franks have redecorated twice, making the home into a friendly, comfortable place to be.

"We sheetrocked all the walls and repainted. The first time around, I did a lot of the work, but the second, we let the painters do it," Mrs. Frank said.

The Franks have five daughters, Velma, now Mrs. Perry Hoyer, lives in Tulsa and is teaching. Sue is a junior elementary education major at WTSU, while Judy is a freshman majoring in journalism. Mary Ann is a sophomore at Canyon High School and Eva is in the eighth grade.

Despite participation in a multitude of activities, Mrs. Frank finds time to garden, and make floral arrangements for church each Sunday, to knit, crochet, sew, and cook.

Included in her community activities are Priscilla Club, Garden Club, Edgetown Home Demonstration Club, St. Ann's Altar and Rosary Society, Great Books discussion group, Panhandle Boat and Ski Club, Schooner Club, and the Community Concert Association.

"Also, Joe is a member of Knights of Columbus at UMBarger, so we sometimes go over there," Mrs. Frank said. Last year, the Frank home won first place in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Lighting Contest.

"This year, we have left the general theme pretty much the same, adding decorations and lighting to one of the trees outside. Also the smaller decorations are changed from last year," Mrs. Frank smilingly stated.

The recipes which Mrs. Frank provides this week are fine additions and ideas for those upcoming holiday parties and gatherings.

Opportunity Plan Gets $150 More

West Texas State University's Opportunity Plan, Inc. has been given a $150 donation by the Amarillo Dental Society.

Noting the proximity between Canyon and Amarillo, and desiring to improve relations between the dentists of Amarillo and the students of WTSU, Dr. Tom Gerald and Dr. Carter Karr, both members of the 65-member group presented the check to Milton "Buff" Morris, director of the plan.

"What appealed to us most about the WTSU Opportunity Plan was that the students are required to pay the money back into the Plan," said Dr. Gerald.

The men, who both attended WTSC, said their society had also made scholarship awards to Amarillo College. These donations were earmarked for either pre-medical or pre-dental students, but there were no restrictions on their contribution to the Opportunity Plan, Inc.

The money has not been designated for any special part of the WTSU plan, according to Morris.

Caution

With the coming of the Holiday Season, we would like to urge every one to exercise extreme caution in the use of all electrical decorations.

Check extension cords for worn places, and do not have more than two cords attached to one outlet. This causes an overload of the circuit which in turn causes overheating. And remember your Christmas tree is very inflammable, and can become a flaming torch in seconds. So with a little caution can make this Holiday Season a joyous occasion, instead of a tragedy, which happens so often.

MRS. RICHARD RAYMOND

Claude Woman Tells How Transplant Saved Sight

BY TROY MARTIN

A touching story of how she lost her sight and then regained it through the miracle of cornea transplant was told here Saturday night by Mrs. Richard Raymond of Claude.

Mrs. Raymond spoke at the annual Lions Club Ladies Night and Christmas party.

The Lions Club sponsors the High Plains Eye Bank. A person wishing to do so may will his eyes to the eye bank and through cornea transplant, they can be used by someone else after his death.

Dr. W. J. Wooten is in charge of the local club's eye bank efforts.

Mrs. Raymond said her eyes began giving her trouble about 16 years ago. She obtained glasses but her eyes became steadily worse.

Her optometrist gave up and she went to an optologist. "I hoped he could help," she said.

She got the worst possible news. She was told that she was suffering from an incurable eye disease and that she eventually would be blind.

She and her husband already had one child and were expecting another.

"My heart broke into a million pieces," she declared.

She got contact lenses which gave her great pain when she tried to use them.

"I was legally blind," she related.

By this time the Raymonds had four children.

Then she completely lost her vision. She studied braille in an effort to make the best of her condition.

Her doctor told her that a cornea transplant was absolutely necessary.

At first Mrs. Raymond would not consent to the transplant. She was told that without such an operation she would lose her eyes by infection.

"The doctor told me that with an operation I had a chance but without the transplant there was none at all," she said.

She went to Fort Worth for the operation. When the bandages were removed she had 20-20 vision with glasses.

Eleven months later she underwent another operation.

Mrs. Raymond got her driver's license last year.

The first cornea came from a man in St. Louis the other from a woman in Fort Worth. Mrs. Raymond called the donor's husband and told him of her gratitude to his wife for having made it possible for her to see again.

"He who gives his eyes never really dies," she told the bereaved husband.

The last operation was about three years ago. "I had forgotten how blue God had made the sky and how green he had made the grass," she declared.

Mrs. Raymond had three children she had not even seen. She told listeners of the great joy of being able to do things which take for granted like taking her children to school or just shopping at the grocery store.

Mrs. Raymond has willed her eyes to the eye bank.

"If I am able to put into some man or woman's life a little touch of one rosy sunset, then I shall have walked with God," she declared.

Decorations for the party were done by Bernard Warren. Entertainment was provided by "The Four Finks," a West Texas State University group made up of W. C. Duke, Don Devers, Phil Waters and Andy Tonne. General chairman was Art Roberts. He was assisted by Floyd Lassiter.

Graveside Rites Held

Graveside services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Davenport were conducted Tuesday at 3 p.m. in Memorial Park Cemetery in Amarillo.

Rev. Jack Boyett, minister of the Calvary Baptist Church of Canyon, officiated.

Services were under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Canyon.

The boy was born Monday, Dec. 14, in Neblett Hospital.

He is survived by his parents, Linda and James Davenport of 2522 Eighth Avenue in Canyon; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Davenport of Amarillo, and grandfather J. R. Triplett of Fritch.

WT Forensic Group Sends Contest Tape

West Texas State University Forensics Club entered the 14th annual national contest in public discussion, according to sponsor Gene Lewis.

A 28-minute tape was sent to a judging center this week with a panel of five WT students discussing "What Should Be Done To Solve The Problem of Poverty In The United States?"

Judging will be held at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Finalists will be named between now and April, according to Lewis.

Members of the organization are Don Akin, Fort Worth senior; Mary Lemmond, Avery senior; Bob McDaniel, Amarillo sophomore; Lana Hard, Abilene senior and Helen Kelly, Amarillo senior.

Last year the WT Forensic group was named one of the top 10 organizations in the contest.

Firemen Answer Two Fire Calls

Canyon firemen answered two fire calls in an alley south of Fourth Avenue off 23rd Street. Volunteer firemen rushed to a dumpster around 4 p.m. both Friday and Monday where fire had broken out inside the box.

"We got to the fire in time Friday, but by the time we got there Monday the blaze had warped the box," a fire official said.

Christmastime Goodies Prepared By YuleCook

BY PHYLLIS BONNIE

The arrival of Yuletide means gift shopping and giving, and cooking for holiday occasions, including those visits by friends.

Mrs. L. H. Owens, one of our Christmas cooks, has selected two recipes for Christmas goodies to share with our readers.

Plans are gathering around the Owens household for all the children to be in Canyon for Christmas.

The Owens have two sons and two daughters. Son Charles E., his wife and their son, Vick, age 11, live in Wharton, Texas.

James F., the Owens other son, is lieutenant in the United States Navy, presently serving as an instructor at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. Suzanne Tatman, who has a daughter, Cindy, age 9, is teaching in Albuquerque, N. M.

Daughter Mary, now Mrs. Allen Winters, is the mother of a four-month old son, David.

The Owens family, Susie and Bud, moved to Canyon from Amarillo in 1936.

Bud is originally from Anson, while Susie was raised in Amarillo. She is the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. J. W. Crudginton, pioneer residents of Amarillo.

Susie remembers Amarillo as it once was, and states flatly that it was quite different from what it is now.

"One of my fondest memories is that of walking everywhere we went. I especially remember walking through the snow to go to Christmas programs at church. Everybody used to go, and all the children took part in the program."

Susie is active in her church work, and both she and her husband are members of the First Presbyterian Church.

As part of her church activity, Susie sings in the church choir, and holds the office of National Missions secretary in Plains Presbyterian Society. She has also served as president of the local woman's association.

In between her hobbies of "cooking, reading, a little bit of sewing, and playing the piano", she is also a member of the Woman's Book Club.

With our recipes for such appetizing Christmas goodies, we can hardly wait to have our first party!

WHITE FRUIT CAKE:
1 pound butter
2 3/4 cups sugar
4 1/2 c. flour (sifted)
10 eggs (separated)
2 tsp baking powder
2 tsp lemon extract (if desired)
2 pounds mixed candied fruit
1 pound white seeded raisins
2 pounds pecan pieces
1 small can crushed pineapple

Soften butter and cream well with sugar. Add 1 cup flour. Add beaten egg yolks. Add more flour until all is used. Beat egg whites to a soft peak and fold in batter. Add pineapple and extract. Stir in fruit which has been dusted with 1/2 c. flour. Stir in pecan pieces and mix well. Bake in greased, floured pans which have been lined with heavy, brown paper which also has been greased and floured. Bake at 300 for one hour and two hours at 275. (I put a large pan of water on the lower rack to keep the cakes moist.) May be baked in round tube pans and two oblong loaf pans.

DIVINITY:
3 c. white sugar
1/2 c. water
1/2 c. white Karo syrup
3 egg whites
pinch salt
1 pound pecans
1 Tbsp. vanilla

Boil sugar, water and syrup to soft ball stage. When a little bit is dropped into cold water a soft ball will form.

Have egg whites with pinch of salt beaten to a stiff peak. Pour 1/3 of syrup into egg whites and beat. Continue cooking syrup and beat in another 1/3.

Continue cooking the last third of syrup to hard ball stage and add beating all the while. Stir in vanilla and pecans and beat until it begins to harden. Either drop by teaspoonfuls on waxed paper or foil or pour in buttered pan. (Do not try making divinity on damp, cloudy days as it will not harden.)

Last Rites Friday For Mrs. Cowan

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu R. Cowan of Happy were conducted Friday at 3 p.m. in LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Canyon.

Burial followed in the Happy Cemetery. Rev. Vernon Willard of the Happy First Methodist Church officiated.

Mrs. Cowan died Wednesday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. M. Cox, 610 N. W. 3rd, in Happy.

She had lived in Happy 46 years. She married Earl E. Cowan in Amarillo in 1921. Mr. Cowan died April 14, 1961.

Mrs. Cowan was born in Chase, Kansas, January 9, 1893. She was a housewife, and was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Happy.

Pall bearers in the Friday services were Cone Johnson, Ernest White, Conway Kuykendall, Thomas L. Sexton, Embury Finley, Gordon Greenfield, Bob Francis, Roy Elkins and Aldon Mann.

Survivors include one son, Earl E. Cowan, Jr., of Lockhart; two daughters, Mrs. O. M. Cox of Happy and Mrs. W. A. Berry of Amarillo; one half sister, Emma Flora of Chase, Kansas; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

H.G. Greiners Have New Son

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert George Greiner of Canyon are parents of a new baby boy Nov. 29 in Nebbett Hospital in Canyon.

The boy, named Hubert George, Jr., weighed 7 pounds and 11 ounces at the time of birth.

He has one sister, Mary Alice, 4 years old.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Greiner of Canyon. Maternal grandfather is John Byrne of Amarillo.

Mrs. L. H. Owens and grandson, David, have a talk about things in general, and we'll wager, especially about what "Jolly Ol' St. Nick" will be bringing with him on his visit to Canyon. David, 4 months' old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Winters, who live northeast of town. Plans for Christmas at the Owens household are going full blast with hopes high for all the sons and daughters and their families to arrive.

Accidents Take Toll In County

There were 10 rural accidents in Randall County during the month of November, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

One death, seven injuries and $4,275 in damage resulted from these accidents.

November's accidents brought the county's toll this year to nine fatalities, 67 injuries and $82,235 in property damage.

Wells pointed out that December normally is the most deadly month of the year on the highway and urged motorists to exercise extreme caution during this perilous time.

Jim Bible Stricken

Jim Bible, 73 years old, suffered his fifth heart attack recently.

He has been hospitalized. Relatives this week said his condition is "as good as could be expected." Bible is a retired farmer.
